Join the Bungendore Community Gardens Group to learn about worms, compost and no-dig gardening and get a taste for growing healthy food for very little cost.

- Learn about the different ways of worm-farming and participate in setting up a simple, low cost worm farm.
- Learn more about how composting works and why it is so important in a thriving garden.
- Discover how easy it is to create a no-dig garden and plant seedlings to begin putting super-fresh food on your table.
- Learn more about the Bungendore Community Garden; meet the people involved and join in their activities.
- Enjoy a family day out, bring a picnic and join the Bungendore Community Gardeners in celebrating the launch of the Garden.

Don't forget to wear a hat and sunscreen, bring drinking water and gardening gloves.
